What’s Your Voting Plan?

VOTER REGISTRATION and MAIL-IN/ABSENTEE BALLOT INFORMATION

for Students, Faculty and Staff

DO YOU HAVE A VOTING PLAN?
STEP 1: Am I eligible to vote?

You must be:

• a U.S. citizen

and in most states you must be:

* 18 years old by the date of the general, primary or other election in which you want to vote

Find other rules or regulations in the state you reside and want to register in HERE go to vote411.org select your state to get that information.

If you are Puerto Rican, you cannot vote for president if you reside in Puerto Rico, BUT if you reside in any a U.S. state you can register to vote there.
STEP 2: Decide where you will vote.

This is more complicated than usual given the disruption of the COVID-19 pandemic to our housing situations. Many have moved.

TWO INITIAL QUESTIONS:

- Where are you currently living?
- Where are you currently registered?

  o Confirm voter registration in HERE
IF THEN, WHAT?
SCENARIOS
If you are currently registered to vote where you lived prior to the pandemic but have been displaced to another state temporarily, assess whether you intend to return to your former residence after the disruption, IF SO

- Vote in your the state you lived prior to the pandemic by mail/absentee ballot

IF NOT

- Change your voter registration to the state in which you are currently residing by registering in that state, then you can vote in person or absentee/mail-in ballot if available
If you have been displaced by COVID to another county in the state that you have resided before the pandemic, assess whether you intend to return to your former residence after the disruption, IF SO

- Vote in the city/county you are registered in by mail/absentee ballot (!make sure ballot is sent to current address!)
  IF NOT
- Change the address on your voter registration to the city/county in which you are currently residing and then either vote in-person or by mail-in ballot
If you moved to another address in the city/county you are registered since the last time you voted, you can o Change the address on your voter registration

    OR

  o Vote by mail/absentee ballot (make sure ballot is sent to current address)

    OR

  o Vote in-person at your previous polling place/old address
If you moved to your current residence to start school and/or to work and have not yet voted in that city/state:

- Register to vote in that city/state online or by paper application HERE and then, apply for a mail-in ballot or find your polling place HERE and vote either way.

If you recently moved to your current address make sure you meet the state's residency requirements/deadline to register in that state. Check HERE

If a residency requirement is 30 days prior to the election on November 3rd (like in NY or PA) you need to have established residence....

...by October 3\(^{rd}\)
I do not have a permanent residence because I am homeless. Can I still register and vote?

Yes, you are still eligible to register and vote. You may use the address of where you sleep as the place of residence on your voter registration application.
STEP 3: Register to vote OR skip to Step 4

If you need to register to vote for the first time, whether because you are voting for the first time or changing your voter registration from another state (change of address) you do that

HERE

Please note that if you do not have a state ID from the state in which you are registering for the first time, you will need to provide a signature with your registration. This means you will need to register to vote in person or mail in a paper registration form.

Do I need a party affiliation to vote? Why?

When you register to vote, you will be asked to select a party affiliation.

You can select "none," "no party preference" or "independent," but please note that doing that may—in certain states—prevent you from voting in primary elections.
What do I need to register to vote?

Voter ID requirements are determined by each of the 50 states. PLEASE CHECK on your state's requirements by going to Vote411.org and selecting your state. On each state-specific page you will find a menu on the left with lots of information including state-specific voter ID information.

Or go HERE to get an detailed voter ID requirements for each state.

Some states might require you to bring and ID to vote especially if you are a first time vote. Make sure you know!
STEP 4: Decide how you’ll be voting?

Four primary ways to vote:

• in-person on election day Tuesday November 3rd: find your polling place HERE

• by absentee ballot before November 3rd. Your state's absentee process can be found HERE by selecting your state

• by mail-in ballot (absentee and mail-in ballot follow the same basic process)

• by early in-person voting (in many but not all states)
In-person on November 3rd

- Make sure you know your assigned polling place
- Research the candidates, ballot questions and prepare yourself
- Check your state's Voter ID requirements and make sure you have an acceptable form of ID with you, especially if you are a first-time voter in that state
- Grab your mask, a bottle of water & a snack, something to sit/lean on if needed, and a charged phone

ANSWERS TO FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Why should I register? You can’t vote if you don’t register, and most states have voter registration deadlines that occur long before Election Day. So even if you haven’t decided whom you’re voting for or even if you’re voting, you should register now so you will be able to vote on Election Day.

Why should I vote? Great question! There are many reasons why a person votes and yours may be different from anyone else’s, but voting is an essential part of our democracy. We elect representatives to enact laws on our behalf and the only way to voice who represents you is to cast a ballot. Also, many issues come up on the ballot that you are allowed to directly vote on like the freedom to marry, how much you pay in taxes, where they put a landfill/build a stadium, and much more.

I don’t like either candidate, so I’m not going to vote. You should still vote! There are other important local, state and federal elections to vote for. You don’t need to choose a presidential candidate to vote in other key races.

I don’t believe in voting. Everyone’s entitled to their opinions and beliefs. I’d encourage you to vote based on the issues you care about and think about how casting a ballot might change that.

Does my vote even count? Yes! It may sound cliché but every vote matters. Think of it this way: the only vote that doesn’t matter is the one that was never cast. Make your voice heard – don’t let other voters decide the election results for you!

Which address do I use? Use the address where you reside and intend to vote.

Can I register to vote at my college or university address? Yes. Even if you are already registered at home, we encourage you to register at school. You are much more likely to vote.

Can I register to vote using a P.O. Box as my address? No, you must provide a valid place of residence as your address on your voter registration application.

My address has changed. Do I need to re-register? Yes. Each part of the state has its own unique candidates and measures on the ballot. Simply fill out a new application form, and re-register at your new address.

I want to vote, but I will not be in my home precinct on Election Day. Can I still vote? Absolutely. See details above on getting an absentee ballot from your state.

If I register to vote, am I going to be called for jury duty? Juror lists are created from a variety of state databases, including lists of taxpayers and drivers – so if you have a driver’s license or pay taxes, you are still on the state’s list of eligible jurors. Don’t give up your right to vote to avoid jury duty!
